For those seeking additional income in 2012, there has never been a better time to enter the world of factoring and alternative commercial finance. As everyone knows, banks are not lending and America's small business owners are struggling to overcome cash flow limitations as their customers pay their bills in 30, 45, even 60 days and longer. Unfortunately, few such entrepreneurs are aware of the problem solving capabilities of accounts receivable factoring and other creative products in the alternative commercial finance industry. As a result of our current economy, now is the perfect time for...

- accounting professionals
- tax preparers
- bookkeepers
- accounts payable managers
- commercial insurance agents
- business brokers

- cash flow brokers

...and many others to become knowledgeable in the many unique products found in our industry and cash in during the 2012 Earn While You Learn Sales Contest at Aegis Factors.

To make your entry into our industry even more exciting, Aegis Factors and the IACFB are providing additional Bonus Cash incentive during the contest period which begins February 1st and runs through June 30th, 2012.
